CIRCULAR - II

All India Oriental Conference

Oriental language and literature are the original academic voice and vibration of the Asian countries. The world of scholars of oriental learning felt a need of a creative institution that might provide occasion to assemble the men of letters to discuss the subjects related to the oriental learning for the purpose of research in the field of Indian literature mostly based on the Sanskrit literature. This caused the establishment of the institution - INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF ORIENTALISTS. This congress took place at various places beyond Indian Territory and gained applaud. This was the main exhorting ground of beginning of the All India Oriental Conference. It is worthy to know that the oriental learning basically reflects the wider range of ancient studies of Asian territory, started from the main source of knowledge. The Rigveda appears as the oldest edify of the Seers' wisdom.

100th year of AIOC

The year 2019 marks the 100th year of the beginning of this great academic event. The AIOC was instituted first in 1919 in Shimla, Himachal Pradesh with the combined great efforts of Sir R. G Bhandarkar. This learned scholar worked in the capacity of president as well as Secretary. Today near about 21 sections of the different subjects in various languages are included in its mission of study and research. It opens the flexible door for inclusion of all humanitarian subjects.

50th Session of AIOC

The AIOC has successfully completed 49 sessions so far binding all the oriental scholars with the thread of oriental knowledge and wisdom. The prestigious 50th session is now being organized by the Kavikulaguru Kalidas Sanskrit University, Ramtek from 10th January to 12th January 2020 at Nagpur. This is certainly a very prestigious event for all the students and researchers of oriental learning to celebrate and cherish the memory for ever. This event will be forever recorded in the annals of the history of Nagpur city.

The All India Oriental Conference, which has for the last ten decades served as the National forum of scholars interested in Orientology, will hold its 50th session at Nagpur.
